José Manuel Cancela

Composer · Film & Television Music

Composer for film and television and winner of five Emmy Awards. Originally from Galicia, Spain, José Manuel Cancela has built an international career creating music for films, documentaries, and television programs. His work blends narrative sensitivity with technical excellence, giving each project a distinctive sonic identity.

Trained under renowned composers such as Christopher Lennertz, Christopher Young, and Javier Navarrete, he has contributed music and music production to high-profile projects for major studios and television networks.

His versatility has led him to collaborate with artists such as Celia Cruz, The Backstreet Boys, Chick Corea, U2, and Janet Jackson, moving comfortably across genres ranging from action films and drama to concert music.

His credits include productions such as Creed, Uncle Drew, Ray Donovan, the Olympic Games, The Last Narcissist, and Gordon Ramsay: Uncharted, among many others.

Outside the studio, he nurtures his Galician roots by playing the gaita, practices transcendental meditation, and enjoys time with his family.
